

SERVICE AND CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM

"Portsmouth has the honor of having a High School that stands equal to any in the country in comparison." The principles of Rotary "service" and cooperation is just what we need here in Portsmouth," were the opening remarks of Headmaster Lee T. Gray of the P. H. S. when he was introduced at Thursday's luncheon. "We welcome constructive criticism in our public schools, but not destructive. Our schools will compare with any in the land and I hope for more cooperation on the part of all of our citizens. If there are complaints, let us have them direct. The High School is our second largest industry in the city and to my mind the most important." His talk was clear, concise and to the point. That's the word—cooperation—not tearing down.

P. H. S. CLASS 1923 HOLD CLASS EXERCISES

High School Hall Thronged With Pupils and Parents

The Commencement season of the Portsmouth High School senior class began today when the class day exercises were held at High School Assembly Hall. The exercises began at three o'clock and long before that hour the hall was filled with relatives and friends of the graduates and students of the school.

The High School orchestra furnished music under the direction of Ernest P. Bilbruck, and to the music of a spirited march the seniors entered the hall, the class that has the distinction of having the largest number of students at the close of the high school course, the graduates numbering 110.

The young women of the class entered on one side of the hall and the young men on the opposite side. All marched to the rear of the hall and came down the middle aisle in couples, William Leahy, president of the Junior Class, acting as marshal. The class officers and those taking part in the exercises were seated on the stage and the remainder of the class occupied front seats.

The class officers are:
President—Herbert Richardson,
Vice President—Jean Butler,
Secretary—Charlotte Tasker,
Treasurer—John Pike.

The following was the program of exercises:

March Class of 1923

Address to Undergraduates John Meehan

Class History, Sally Crockett, Romilda Lizio.

SHOE STRIKE IN HAVERHILL

(By Associated Press)
Haverhill, Mass., June 8—The campaign of the Shoe Workers' Protective Union to unionize every factory in the city took another step forward today when a strike was called in the Medium Shoe Company employing 75 hands, because of the refusal of the firm to sign the union price list. The factory employed all union hands but was operating as an open shop.

ITALY COMMENTS ON GERMAN NOTE

(By Associated Press)
Rome, June 8—A local newspaper says editorially that the new proposals of Chancellor Cuno are still far from realizing what is necessary for a possible understanding with the Allies. The only noticeable improvement, says the newspaper, is that in the new note Germany no longer asks the evacuation of the Ruhr.

SHRINERS HOMEWARD BOUND TODAY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 8—Three pullman car cities which housed thousands of the Shriners attending the annual convention here have dissolved into special towns today which began the homeward exodus in the early hours. The convention program was brought formally to a close with the pageant and dancing on Pennsylvania avenue last night but the pageant was being repeated today for the benefit of the Washington school children.

NATION-WIDE COAL STORAGE SURVEY PLAN

(By Associated Press)
St. Paul, Minn., July 8.—Plans for conducting a nation-wide coal storage survey were announced here today when the Executive Board of the American Engineering Council of the Federated Engineering Societies convened for a two-day session. President Coohey dean of the Engineering school of the University of Michigan, presided. The committees to aid the main coal storage committee of the Federation are being organized in 86 states from Boston to San Francisco.

Arthur Rand, who attends the Worcester Polytechnic school, has arrived home for the summer vacation.

German Offer of Reparations Considered Distinct Advance--Reply Being Formed By Paris and Brussels

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, June 8—Reichstag leaders believe the note delivered at the allied capitals yesterday marks an advance over the German government's previous reparations communications. Parliamentary circles are not displaying an excessive optimism concerning the reception of the memorandum by the creditor powers.

London, June 8—The new German reparations memorandum has created a generally favorable impression in the London newspapers, most of which regarded it as a distinct advance over any previous proposal. The suggestion of a conference at which Germany would be represented meets with the approval of a majority of the commentators.

Paris, June 8—Paris and Brussels are keeping in constant communication today discussing the advisability of making a reply to the new German reparations notes or ignoring it entirely as not susceptible of forming a basis for negotiation. In the event a decision is reached that a reply be made, the French government is reported to favor a curt dismissal of Germany's latest composition. Belgium, on the contrary, is said to be desirous of wording the acknowledgement in such a manner as might leave the way open for a further parley.

CURB BROKERAGE FIRM FAILS--MILLION AND A HALF

(By Associated Press)
New York June 8—Suspension of the firm of L. L. Winkelman & Co. of the New York curb market was announced shortly after noon. In announcing the situation the New York curb market instructed other firms having contracts subject to the rules of the exchange with L. L. Winkelman & Co. to close them out without necessary delay. The bankruptcy of the firm resulted in extensive foreign liquidation of stocks that yielded one to three points. Standard Oil of Indiana and Ohio were among the leading stocks to lose a point or more. An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal court early today against the stock brokerage firm of L. L. Winkelman & Co., second largest member of the New York curb market. It was the largest house actively in business on the curb market today. The only other larger one, that of Jones & Baker having gone into bankruptcy and been suspended last week. Members of the firm are L. L. Winkelman and A. K. Nicholson. Liabilities of the Winkelman firm were placed at $1,750,000 and assets at $1,500,000 in an application for receivership made before Federal Judge Bondy. Judge Bondy named Charles L. Livingston receiver, with bond of $50,000.

New York, June 8—A flurry was created in Wall Street this morning when the brokerage firm of L. L. Winkelman & Co., one of the largest members of the New York curb market, temporarily closed its doors. The offices were again opened at 1:55 o'clock and members of the firm refused to say why they had been closed. "It is now 10:55 o'clock and we are open for business," said one member of the firm who refused to amplify his comment in any way.

FIREWORKS, BAND CONCERTS AND OTHER ATTRACTIONS

A rather lengthy fireworks contract presented by Harry Winebaum, local representative of the American Fireworks Company, was carefully read and the opinion was that Chairman Ernest Chaney and his fireworks committee were amply protected and assured of fine exhibitions on Monday evening, August 20th and the grand finale following the pageant on Thursday, August 23d.

Many national and state ads, for all ready requests for space from outside show that Portsmouth is expected to have a crowd here that will be representative of the whole country.

Concerns are warned not to give ads to any but men having credentials signed by Chairman Hartford of the committee. This is important and you will save your time and money only by dealing with official attaches of the bicentenary. Men transacting business for other committees like parking, booklet, medals, etc., will have official badges when the time arrives.

Meetings today are 4 p. m. Clergy-men and concerts committee; 7:30, executive; 8 p. m., conference with D'Avino and Ives concert bands.

ADDRESS TO UNDERGRADUATES

By John Meehan

Another year has passed by and another class of Portsmouth High School will soon join the ranks of the alumni. As we approach the time for our graduation we have looked forward with pleasure to Class Day when we, with all the dignity becoming to Seniors, could give advice to you undergraduates.

Portsmouth High School was first kept in an old building on State St. next to what is now the City Hall Building, and now it is in the present crowded high school building. Then, Portsmouth High School was a second school where pupils, who desired, could be educated; today, aside from the education given, Portsmouth High School is recognized as a powerful link in the chain of Portsmouth's development as a city.

Today, Portsmouth High School is the second largest high school in New Hampshire, being exceeded only by Manchester High School. Today, Portsmouth High School has an enviable scholastic record. Any pupil who completes the required work and who is properly certified by the headmaster, can enter Annapolis, West Point, Harvard, Dartmouth, Bowdoin, and the University of Maine. How many high schools in this state can boast of such a record?

In addition to its scholastic standing, Portsmouth High School has an undisputed position in athletics. At the present time Portsmouth High School holds the basketball championship of New Hampshire.

So much for the school as a whole. Now I will begin the annual delight of the Senior Class—giving advice.

First of all undergraduates remember your loyalty to the traditions of P. H. S. and abide by them by supporting all activities to the best of your ability.

Unfortunately, there has been a great deal of severe criticism this year from some of the pupils in the school. Be considerate in your judgments and criticisms. Be sure of what you are saying. A hastily spoken statement may cause more trouble than you think it could. A healthy school spirit is necessary to every school.

Each year the value of physical training in the high schools is becoming more and more understood. This Senior Class hopes that some day will dawn on a new high school properly equipped with a new, modern gymnasium.

Outdoor sports require an enclosed playing field in order to become paying propositions. Undergraduates, keep this need of an enclosed athletic field before the eyes of your representatives at the city hall and never allow interest in this matter to weaken.

Debating should be resumed at this high school. Debating cannot be spoken of too many times. Its value can easily be seen since it develops individual thought, ability, poise, and confidence. Members of the class of 1924, we look to you to renew interest and action in this most important matter.

Everybody who follows the activities of this school, knows of the great success that has attended school dramas. During the years through which you must wait for a new school and a new auditorium, the class plays should be presented in a theatre such as the Portsmouth Theatre. These plays can be produced there successfully. The facilities for production and seating are invaluable to such presentations.

The French Club has enjoyed a renewed interest during this past school year and hopes to bring this added interest in the coming years. To all undergraduates, we say, take some pride in this organization, make it one to be proud of. It is a great factor in the development of the school. This year the French Club has established relations with the French Club at Berwick Academy. Sufficient interest was taken at New Hampshire College to cause a professor of the French Dept. to come to a meeting of the club and lecture for the benefit of the members.

Athletic ability is recognized by the granting of letters, scholastic achievements are recognized by the presentation of medals and honorable mentions. Now, the question is, what do the members of the orchestra receive? Here is a group of students that devote one afternoon a week to practice, and then give the musical program at chapel meetings, class plays, graduation and other commencement exercises, and also plays at Parent-Teacher meetings. We think that they should be given a pin to at least recognize their ability and school spirit. Think it over undergraduates, remember that popular or public opinion counts a great deal.

There has been peacefully resting for the past two years—the Clarion. We have missed its joyful messages but we hope next year to hear the Clarion cry out the spirit and sentiments of P. H. S. There is no doubt in our minds about the ability of the undergraduates to reorganize and carry on this splendid work of publishing the Clarion.

In conclusion—Always remember that the spirit of the Class of 1923 will be with you in your activities. Carry on! make the citizens of this city look to their high school as a great power and a great influence in the development of Portsmouth. Remember that this high school is one of the greatest assets that this city possesses. Keep your spirit alive and P. H. S. will be the greatest high school in the United States of America and will be in keeping with the motto of our class—summa summarum.

CLASS HISTORY

(By Romilda Lizio, Sally Crockett)

I sat by the fireside dreaming and in the flickering, leaping flames I saw the faces of many of my classmates, and because the time of parting was so near I began to think of the four years we have spent together.

I remembered that day when we first entered high school, poor, abused freshmen. I remembered the feeling of terror when we walked into a senior recitation period by mistake and were laughed at, the thrills of joy when we went to chapel for the first time and were publicly welcomed and that feeling of pride when we called our first class meeting and found we numbered 165, the largest class that ever entered the high school.

At a later class meeting we elected John Meehan, president, Theresa Conlon, vice president, Jean Butler, secretary, and Edward Welch, treasurer. Class pins and rings were also chosen. As soon as we located our rooms, the library and the office, got used to being addressed as Miss and Mister, and had convinced the seniors that we really weren't such a bad lot, we began to enjoy ourselves, also to study and to take part in the high school life. We furnished two members to the baseball squad, and helped our sister class to win the banner fight.

September, 1920, we became sophomores and were allowed to have rooms 5 and 7 on the first floor, 14 and 15 on the second floor. Early in November we held a class meeting, electing Herbert Richardson, president, Jean Butler, secretary, and Ralph Margeson, treasurer. Remembering the cruel treatment that we had received as freshmen, we decided to return good for evil and early in the fall a dance was held to welcome the entering freshmen class and the new teachers. During this year too, the school basketball team made a good showing and was invited to take part in the Tufts tournament.

The Haven medals for general excellence in all subjects for the first two years presented to Dorothy Shaw and Emerson Hall, in June, proved that at least two members of our class had accomplished something in the first half of their high school course.

I remembered when we came back in September, 1921, choosing at an early meeting Ralph Margeson, president, Dorothy Mattison, vice president, Veronica Moran, secretary, and John Pike, treasurer. A prom committee was also chosen which made fine preparations for the dance. This was held in the assembly hall which was prettily decorated with our class colors, blue and gold, and our class banner which occupied an honorable place over the stage. Music was furnished by "Bo" Garland's Orchestra. I remember the success of our junior play, "All of a Sudden Peggy," with Rosinda Hutchings and Herbert Richardson in the leading roles. That was the year that the basketball team with Pike and Badger, representatives from our class, held the record of 22 victories out of 23 games, defeating both N. H. State and Tufts Freshmen, besides Edward Little high, defeated on its own home floor for the first time in eight years. We, with Dover high, who defeated us at the New Hampshire tournament, represented this state at Tufts. On its return the team was given a testimonial supper at the Rockingham by the Chamber of Commerce and the members of the team were presented with gold basketballs. Late in the school year the Juniors and Seniors held a rope pull at Samoset Creek and after a hard fight we were defeated.

In a remarkably short time came the graduation at which Dorothy Shaw and Robert McDonough were given medals for three years' excellence in mathematics, then the summer vacation and we happily anticipated our return as seniors.

The flames burned brighter for a moment and no wonder for I was thinking of the beginning of that last and best year of all. When we returned we marveled at the throngs of freshmen and wondered how they could all be accommodated but soon forgot their trouble in the interest of their own class, which by this time numbered one hundred and ten, the largest class ever to graduate from the Portsmouth high school, of this number 51 took the academic course, 34 the commercial, 18 the mechanics arts, and 7 the domestic course. We occupied rooms 3, 4, and 5. Early in the year we chose Herbert Richardson, president, Dorothy Mattison, vice president, Charlotte Tasker, secretary, and John Pike, treasurer. We also chose a benefit committee and selected Dec. 29th as the date. The dance was a great success socially and financially. The hall was artistically decorated with the dance colors and a shield made in the shape of our class pin was placed in a prominent position.

During National Educational Week the publication of the Portsmouth Herald was given over to a staff of students, headed by the seniors.

Then I remember the throngs that came to our most successful senior play "Clarence" which had to be repeated because of the interest of the public. Clifton McElman as Clarence will live forever in the memory of the members of the senior class, Theresa Conlon and Oliver Peterson, the juvenile members of the cast, Charlotte Tasker, Winnifred Weeks and Margaret Akers deserve no little credit for the parts they took.

And then there was our championship basketball team, comprised mostly of seniors, Pike, Patch, Badger and Burke. Shall we ever forget that exciting game at the Durham tournament, the game that proved the superiority of Portsmouth, high over Manchester and won the state championship for us; the shield that was presented to the boys as a trophy; the supper given in their honor by the Chamber of Commerce; and their testimonial, presented to the class at a chapel meeting.

And now the flames died out but the embers glow brightly. Just so will our memories of P. H. S. be—no flaming as now, but every burning with a steady glow in the years to come.

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-THREE

We the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Three of the Portsmouth High School in the county of Rockingham, state of New Hampshire, realizing that our days in the aforementioned school are numbered, being of sound mind and doubtful memory, do hereby make, declare, and publish this to be our last Will and Testament disposing of all our earthly and un-earthly possessions in the following manner:

First we bequeath to the teachers our appreciation of their kind assistance and guidance during our four years at P. H. S.

To the Juniors we leave our Senior dignity as well as the privilege of occupying the front seats in assembly and the right to occupy rooms 3, 4, and 5.

Our president, Herbert Richardson, leaves his seventy-five horsepower voice to William Leahy so that he may be heard whenever necessity requires it.

Dorothy Mattison, our vice president and Jean Butler our second vice president, leave their power of leadership and their popularity to Marjorie Badger and Catherine Conkley.

John Pike our efficient treasurer, leaves his skill in athletics to Leonard Alkon.

Charlotte Tasker, our brilliant secretary, leaves to Mary Pendergast and Katherine Butler, her stately bearing.

Constance Lyons bequeaths her good nature at all times to Catherine Moran. Frank McCarthy leaves his hobby of arguing in all classes, but especially in history class, to John Newick.

To Mary Sullivan, Mollie Stella leaves the strict attention that she has always paid in English class. We advise you to reform, Mary, if you utilize it.

Chester Williams leaves his forward way to William Flannigan.

Louise Pray, after much deliberation has decided to give to Elsa Ryan, her naughty demeanor when detected in any act of talking or giggling.

Warren Clark has been given Jim Cullinan's military walk.

Ruth Seavey, who knows she is always right, gives her power of arguing to Mildred Durham.

John Meehan, begrudgingly leaves to Anna Conkley, his weak, feminine-like voice.

Jessie Penny leaves to Lillian Lamb her noisy entrances into the class rooms and to Catherine Flannigan her smiling good nature.

Reggie Voudy has been willed a fine gift of Bob McDonough's which is his thorough knowledge of what to do and when to do it in chemistry. If you proceed as cautiously as Bob, has you'll never get blown up.

Dorothy Shaw has a fine policy. "Early to bed and early to rise, makes one so wise." She bequeaths this to Dot Rand. If you follow out this policy you'll know your lessons as well as Dot always has.

Sam Goldstein has a book called "What a Violinist Should Eat at Recess" which he leaves to Winfield Bickford. This will help you, Winnie, to make a success of your musical career.

Ruth James and Mary Dwyer leave to Yvonne Wendell and Carol Sausser a pamphlet on "Bobbed Hair and its Possibilities."

James Hickey gives his bluish and his bashful way to Virginie Rinalducci. Nora Morrissey leaves her everlasting giggle to Nellie Barron.

Wesley Densmore gives away to Charles Marshall his long hoarded secret "How to Keep the Marcel Perpetually in One's Hair."

Morris Dimock and Roger St. Clair leave their Valentino powers of attraction to Walter Gustafson and Elmer Sylvester.

Margery Sausser, you need more color, so Sally Crockett has been good enough to you and as blushing keeps one young we hope you'll practise it often.

Elsworth Clark has a huge collection of D notices given to him during his four years stay at P. H. S. This he gives to Lewis McNeil.

Edith Hershey and Esther Pickles leave their jumping-jack acquisitions to Edna Batchelder and Anastasia Rafferty.

Harry Laughlin gives to Henry Jackson, a mechanical device which Harry needed to raise him from his seat when called on to recite.

Mary Rafferty bequeaths her love of delving into the mysteries and delights of the literary world to Celia Williams.

Bones Horton gives to Willis Weeks an encyclopedia of "How and When to Study."

Margaret O'Leary and Winifred Weeks give their record as "speed queens on the typewriter" to Merle Craig and Dot Turner.

Russel Kimball has been left Phil Rugg's place in the orchestra.

Ruth Berryman bequeaths to Bessie Greenburg a few of her many afternoon sessions back to school. Bessie, we knew you'd need this gift greatly as Ruth was kind enough to give it away with pleasure.

Robert Wilson and Michael Crowley leave their audacious manner and their forwardness to David Cohen.

Doris Woodsum and Hazel Eaton leave their constant love of study to Swance Rowe and Helen Davis.

Orville Badger leaves his red racer to Albert Neal so that he'll never be late for school.

Oliver Wilbur leaves her extensive wardrobe, the latest styles from Parer, to Margaret Parker.

Chicken Schurman, needs more length so Sam Sussman has left him a portion of his lofty height.

Albert Griffin leaves to Warren Teague his ability as a basket ball player.

Mabel Root leaves to Catherine Hornett her neatness in both her work and dress.

Betty White bequeaths to Gertrude Morton her wonderful gift of being able to talk on any subject, anywhere.

Clifton McElman gives his stubborn curls to Donald Micotte. Use "Silkum" Donald and these curls might smooth down.

Bill Hutchings and Oliver Peterson leave to Babe Malloy and Herbert Gray their knowledge of how to run dances successfully, both socially and financially.

Ethel Brown leaves her cluster of brown curls to Louise Reagan.

Rosina Hutchings leaves to Mary McKenzle her ability as an actress.

Carl Anderson who always wants to experiment on unknown substances in chemistry, leaves this great desire to Curtis Pike but be careful, the results may prove disastrous to you as they often did to Carl.

Mildred Allen, one of the girls who keeps her class in a constant uproar, gives this right to Eileen Costello.

Charlie Loughlin bequeaths willingly to Paul Holland his job of being Miss Adams' right hand man for carrying typewriters up and down stairs.

Margaret Akers and Nathalie Moulton, known as the "smilax twins" in Room 4 bequeath their ever misanthropic ways to Marion Howell and Agnes Hall.

Elna Gould leaves her brilliancy in all subjects to Ruth Ramsdell.

Dorothy Furber gives some of her wealth of curly brown hair to Maxine Wesselhoff.

Frank Gillespie has a wonderful knowledge of solid geometry which he gives to Malcolm Pike.

Katherine Rice gives her record of perfect attendance at school for four years to Emma Nichols.

John O'Brey has been granted Reginald Juneau's artistic ability.

Sheva Karsh who never studies, leaves to Mildred Curtis her good marks and her method of how to win them.

Edward Welsh has had the privilege of being the only boy for some time in the commercial class, but never mind he's kept up the reputation of his sex. This privilege he gives to John Mooney.

Kathleen Leary and Helen O'Connor bequeath to Gertrude Moran and Jennie Fraser, their Puritan ways.

Anna Lynch leaves her fine history notebook to Hazel Parker.

Alfred Terrio gladly gives a few of his weekly visits to the office to Harris Hatch.

George Ward leaves his knowledge of printing and the privilege of being locked up in the building alone to Edward Witham.

Grace Perry leaves her daily rides to and from Rye to Helen Trefethen.

Elizabeth Clifford always so happy, leaves to Irene Livingston her ever-readiness to help someone.

Emerson Hall gives to Winnie Pinkham his jar of freckle remover.

Martha Crowley we want you to be a radio fan so Allan Hall has left you his great knowledge of radio.

Gladys Wood bequeaths upon Dot Merrill her natural rosy cheeks.

Catherine Reagan gives her secret of how to reproduce the southern dialect perfectly, to Margery Hoyt.

Helen Morton has left her place playing jazz music at Rye dances to Ernest Chick. We hope you can play Ernest because you'll become famous with this gift.

Bill Miskell has a great power of refraining from giggling when called upon to read aloud in chem class. This he bequeaths to Ralph Lizio.

Francis Burke leaves his melodious voice during singing period to Horace Haskell.

Bertha Coleman leaves her week-end visits home to Newington to Irma Rihlt.

Evelyn Champagne has a great poetical and musical talent which she leaves to Celia Karsh.

John A. and John P. O'Brien leave the fun they've had of always being mixed up because of their similarity in names to the Varrell twins.

Violet Davis and Carolyn Furber leave their noisy ways and lively manner to Elsie Penny and Jeannette Redden.

Alice Connell leaves her afternoon walks up and down Middle street to Harriet Jones.

To Anna Clair, Robina Brewster gives a little of her speed in shorthand.

Eleanor Pickering leaves her front seat in Room 4 to Esther Robeck but remember Esther, only good little girls can retain front seats so near the office.

Lloyd Patch leaves his inability to make baskets to Paul Wilson.

Alice Luency gives to Pauline Martenson a Victrola record to be used for reducing exercises every morning, like Alice has performed.

Franklin Rutter bequeathed his position on the football team to John Wendell.

Leonard Seavey leaves his flivver, to be used only in good weather to and from Rye, to Robert Harris.

Francis Morrissey hates to leave his high marks to anyone but he supposes he can't be selfish so they go to Bertha Entwistle.

Romilda Lizio gives to Eleanor Peckham her genial smile during and outside of classes.

William White regrettably leaves to Elton Berry his winning ways with the teachers.

Helen Tilton and Christine O'Brien bequeath upon Rosamond Carlin and Dorothy Flannigan their pleasing personalities.

Marjorie Walker leaves to Alice Brooks a few of her dozen or more varied colored sweaters and skirts to match. You can have a different costume for every day, Alice.

Ralph Margeson's pockets are always filled with chocolates, especially during play rehearsals, so he leaves this sweet gift to Tony Constantes.

Dora Levine and Celia Selden leave their chummy ways and their many walks together to school to Helen Duncan and Betty Connor.

Lillian Neville bequeaths her large and stout figure to Martha Lonergan. This has always made Lillian so unhappy that she is glad to give it away.

Edward Morton leaves to Murray Somerville his noisy clamor in the class room and his constant visits to the office. This is not a very helpful gift, Murray, but use it as best you can.

Eleanor Hersey leaves to Edna Batchelder her honored privilege of turning the pages during senior music periods for the pianist.

Helena Nichols has a great imagination, especially in the domestic arts class, which she gives to Edith Chase. This helped Helena a great deal and we hope it will you, Edith.

John Chambers, the featherweight champion of the class, leaves his honor of always winning the Marathon races to Charles Young.

Bill Palfrey leaves his vast knowledge of chemistry lab. work to Frank Hobbs.

Christabel Harris leaves her very loud voice to Ruth Igh.

Eleanor Leary gives her willowy height to Pearl Witham.

Finally, we, the Senior Class, having so generously remembered the Juniors, both individually and collectively, do solemnly extend to them our very best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

In witness thereof we have heretofore subscribed our signatures and affixed our seal this eighth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three.

(Seal) The Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Three.

Headmaster of Portsmouth High School

Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir:

You asked me if I could give you any information about the people that graduated in our class so I am enclosing the report that was read at our last class reunion in 1923.

Hoping this report of last year will be of some value to you, I am

Very sincerely yours,

G. Wesley Densmore.

Report read at second class reunion held at Portsmouth in 1923.

Veronica Moran runs a reducing parlor on Market street. I thought I'd go in and see her but her secretary, Sally Crockett, told me that she never comes into the shop for she weighs about three hundred pounds and she thinks her size would not be a good advertisement. During the summer she travels with a circus in which Pat Chambers, the living skeleton, also figures. There were several patients in the shop and among them I recognized Doris Woodsum, Marjorie Walker, and Rosina Hutchings. A picture caught my eye; it was two views of Jean Butler—one before and one after taking the famous reducing treatment.

Recently I went into the kitchen of a restaurant in the North End, Boston, with Reggie Juneau, he is a kitchen inspector, and who should be washing dishes but Dot Shaw and Al Griffin. In a dark corner sat Skeet McCarthy peeling potatoes at a Harvard.

One day last winter I met some fellows in New York whom I had known in college and we went to the "Pollies". We had difficulty in getting tickets, but at last found a scalper on 6th avenue and who should it be but Emerson Hall. After he saw who I was, he let us have tickets for $9.50 apiece instead of $10. While we were checking our coats, Bones Horton came along. He is general manager of the "Pollies" now the Eleanor Pickering is his private secretary. One of the girls in the chorus looked familiar and later I found out it was Mabel Root. After the show we met the "premiere danseuse", "Anita Limber", and who did she turn out to be but Aggie Quirk.

The other day I got a letter from Charlotte Tasker asking me to send her some money for her "Home for Stray Elephants" and she told me she went into Christobel Harris' Baker shop in Boston last week to get a minkie pie. While she was waiting, Lloyd Patch came in carrying an armful of rolls. She was taking the minkie pie up to Bill Miskell, who was sick at the Forrest Hills hospital. She said, "Imagine my undiluted pleasure at seeing Margaret Akers. Margaret is one of the best nurses at the hospital and has had several offers to go to larger places for more money, but as long as Dr. William Hutchings is in charge of the hospital, no doubt Margaret will continue to take care of Miskell.

I read in the paper that Bill Palfrey is going to have a theatre in Eliot, Me. He has hired the Francis Burke and Willie White Contracting Co., to construct the building, while Louise Pray and Jim Cullinan are to be the interior decorators.

Kate Regan took her chem teacher's advice and had her voice tried out by the Victor Talking Machine Company and now she is making Red Seal records when she is not traveling for her health.

Sammy Sussman had charge of an insane asylum, so I saw by the paper, and is writing a book on skating also. George Ward is his right hand man at the asylum.

The "Harmonic Sextet" was in town the other day and from their pictures I recognized Bobby McDonough, Helen Morton, Chet Williams, Frenchy Rutter, Herbert Yeaton and Eddie Welch. The next morning in the paper, the music critic, Bert Richardson, says, "Although I knew these people in my youth, I do not feel called upon to praise them now."

Betty White and Roger St. Clair tried importing oranges from California to Florida but the scheme fell through in spite of Betty's management and Roger's unfailing sympathy. Now they have welcomed Esther Pickles and Morris Dimmock to their company and are shipping ice cream to the Esquimaux.

One day I was touring through Maine and being in doubt which way to turn, I called to a fellow who was sweeping the pavement. He approached my car and imagine my delight at seeing Ellsworth Clark again.

Ralph Margeson always liked playing the part of a well trained butler; that may account for his asking to be head butler in my new estate on the Hudson.

I was very much surprised to see in the morning papers that the pupils of a small Vermont school had struck because the school board wished to discharge Nathalie Moulton for insisting on winking at the older boys in her class. The head of the school board, Clifton McElman, and one of his assistants, Phil Rugg, by name, decided that such things were not to be tolerated. Mildred Allen, the school nurse, sided with Nathalie.

I had the pleasure of meeting the first woman mayor of San Francisco and I was so surprised to find it was Ethel Brown that I dropped my glasses and broke them. I saw Harry Loughlin there too. He is one of Ethel's select men. After the speech I went to get some new glasses and who should be the optometrist but John P. O'Brien and his assistant was Dot Furber.

Johnny Pike and I dropped into a men's fashion show when we were in Boston last, and John Meehan was the model for the sport clothes.

Jessie Penney and Helena Nichol saved their nickles and pennies and studied designing. Now they are working together in Paris designing costumes for the Orville Badger-Carl Anderson Importing Company. Ruth Berryman, Alice Connell and Mary Dyer are buyers for this company and their advertising man is Sam Goldstein.

Of course you

THIEVES AT HOLYOKE ROB JUDGE'S HOME

Holyoke, June 7.—The home of Judge E. W. Chapin of Elms street, was entered by thieves this afternoon who ransacked nearly all of the rooms on the first floor and stole $5 in cash, one platinum bar pin with three diamonds, one ladies' gold watch, with initials M. L. C., two silver purse mesh bags, one silver bead bag and two silver chains.

The maid heard a noise down stairs and thinking that Judge and Mrs. Chapin and family who had gone out had returned, came down stairs when the thieves fled. No description of them was obtained.

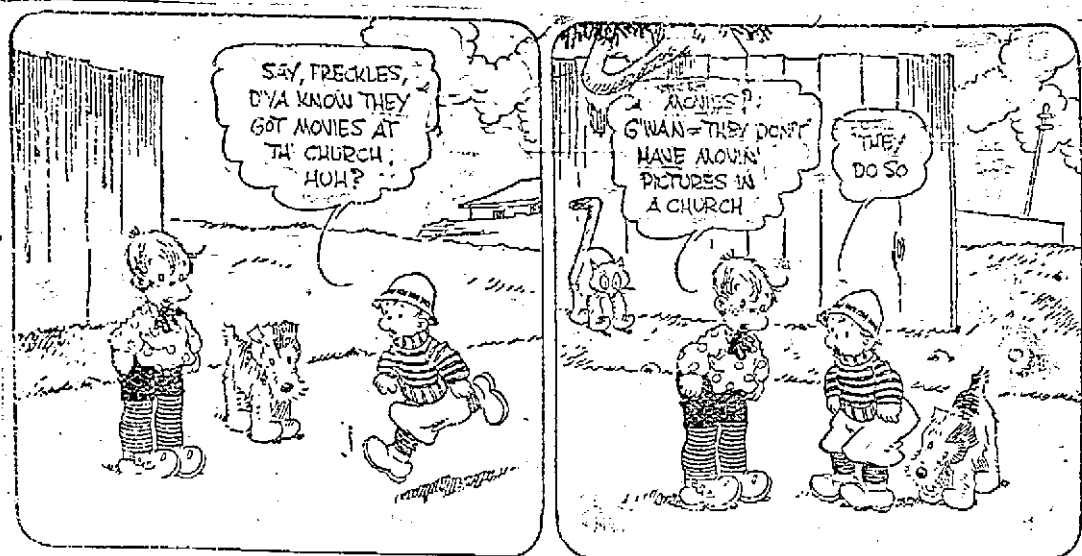

KITTERY POINT

Kittery Point, June 8.—Mrs. John Hodgdon of New York is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fuller of Bartlett road.

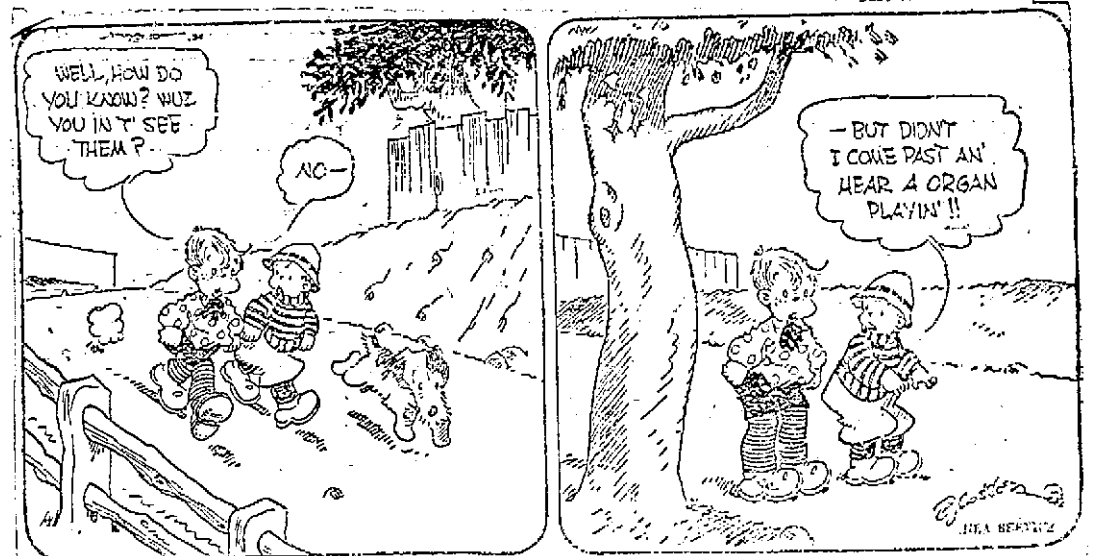

Mrs. Miriam Billings has been called to North Hampton by the critical illness of her son Jesse Billings.

The Mitchell-Stafford Parent Teachers association will hold its last meeting of the season this evening at the Mitchell school. All interested are invited to attend.

zine "Care of the Ford," that she thinks the girls were foolish to start out that way. I, myself, don't know much about this trip, but Alfred Terrio told me that he is doubtful if they ever find the South Pole. He is a weather prophet for the "Portsmouth Gazette."

Lillian Neville never did anything more exciting than to marry a man worth ten million dollars. Now they tour the world in their yacht and private train. Her secretary is Nora Morrissey, and Allan Hall is her lawyer.

Christine O'Brien, Sheila Karsh and Edith Hersey are running a Russian ballet dancing school. Carolyn Furber is a graduate of their school and Anna Linchey is their treasurer.

I suppose you have all read Kathleen Leary's book "Memories." It was one of the best sellers last year. Teddy Arendt is her publisher and Bertha Coleman is the illustrator of this fine publication.

Grace Berry, Eleanor Hersey and Evelyn Champagne are traveling sales ladies for Charles Laughton's brass tack factory. Francis Morrissey is working on a new design for the tacks now. This new tack will have no point and no head.

Violet Davis has the honor of being the first lady ambassador sent from the United States to South Africa. Her debates with Hazel Eaton on the cost of shredded wheat excited much interest in the coal mines of New Hampshire.

Robina Brewster, Gladys Wood and Eleanor Leary are running a bathing house at Norway.

CLASS LIMERICKS

By Margaret Akers, Nathalie Moulton, Dorothy Shaw and Eleanor Pickering.

Theresa Conlon Sun
Theresa, are you always giggling?
Ever try to check your smile?
Whenever things look dark and cloudy
We know you'll cheer folks up a pile.

Mildred Allen Book on Etiquette
Mildred you have such a loud and boisterous way.
Accept this book on etiquette—"I will help you every day.
When you have some time to spend,
Take this book and your manners mend.

Charlotte Tasker Multiplication Table
There was a young miss said "Gee!"
I can't multiply seven by three.
Though fourteen seems plenty,
It might come to twenty—
I haven't the slightest idea."

Morris Dimock Blue Ribbon
Morris, you are so very neat,
For a fashion model you can't be beat.
We want you to take this blue ribbon
bow,
It means you'll take first prize wherever you go!

Samuel Sussman Dumbbells
We want to give you these dumbbells,
Sam,
So exercise all you possibly can:
If you use them at night they'll keep you in trim—
So please be careful and don't get thin.

Emerson Hall Medal
My friend, you've already brought fame to our school.
With your sprinting at every track meet.
Now always be careful and bide by this rule—
Merely look before your leap.

John Pike A Ball
The past four years tell us Johnny,
Some day you'll be known to fame;
Another ball with our best wishes,
Use it when you play the game.

Jean Butler A Horn
Jean, you are so quiet,
You never make a sound.
Just blow upon this little horn,
So we'll know when you're around.

Eleanor Pickering A Question Mark
If asking questions leads to wisdom,
Then wiser you should be,
Then all your friends and classmates
Of 1923.

Jessie Penney Hair Nets
Jessie, your hair is never untidy,
You do not need these "hair nets";
But take this box of hair nets,
Mishap may come to you.

Alden Horton A Bone
Bones, your name has always been,
And Bones to us 'twill be,
So take this little reminder,
From the class of '23.

John Chambers A Daily Dozen Record
Nobody loves a fat man!
Which seems so sad and fate;
So do your daily dozen,
Before it is too late.

Eleanor Leary A Doll
A grown up gift would hardly do
For one so very small.
So when you want to have some fun,
Just go and get your doll.

Wesley Densmore Curling Iron
Wesley, your hair always looks very rough.
So we know that you don't use
"stickum" enough.
Here's a marcelling iron, now keep it
with care,
And always be careful you don't burn your hair.

Theodore Arendt Baby Doll
We're sorry they took your balloon,
Teddy.
But you know it's a hard and fast
rule.
That we've got to be grown up and dignified.
The minute we enter this school,
Now take this baby doll, Teddy,
And play with it a lot.
But remember your past experience,
And don't you ever get caught.

Ellsworth Clark Big A
Now, Ellsworth, don't look startled
This A may not be the last.
And if only you'd tend to your studies
The A's would come thick and fast.

Sally Grescott Rouge
Yes, Sally, we know it is a secret.
That your blush all comes off at night.

Carl Anderson Ford Car
We all know, Carl, it's very far
To walk from Atlantic Heights;
So please make use of this Ford car—
'Twill come in handy nights.

Dorothy Shaw Candle
We want to give you a candle
To light your way by night
You'll never need it in college,
For you always were so bright.

Marjory Walker Sweater
Marjory, you're sweaters of every hue,
Red, orange, black, purple and blue,
But there's one we've not seen,
So we'll give you this green—
We're sure it's becoming to you.

Ruth James Piano
Four years you've played on this old piano.
And stood our noise every Wednesday day, too.
Some day when you're pounding a noisy typewriter
Just think of your schoolmates,
Who give this to you.

Margaret Akers Box of Sunshine Biscuits
The sunshine that you spread each day
Has helped us all in many a way.
These Sunshine biscuits we give to you
That you may spread sunshine
Your whole life through.

John Meehan Philosophy Book
Scholars may come and Scholars may go, but you'll live on for ages.
Your recitations have won you a name,
And soon you'll be one of the sages.

Herbert Richardson Boat
As you live across the river
And because you have no river
We present to you this boat,
And we only hope 'twill float.

Charles Laughton A Yeast Cake
Charlie, you are so thin and pale,
We fear 'tis vitamins you need,
But this yeast cake will make you hearty and hale
And you will always be healthy indeed.

Ralph Margeson A Serving Tray
You acted so fine in the Senior play
And you did so well not to grin,
That we'll give to you this serving tray,
Though it's only made of tin.

Orville Badger A Cup
Hoss, you're always with a saucer,
So we give to you this cup.
And we hope they'll not break up.
That they may be friends together.

George Ward A Tool Chest
In a well known New York paper,
I came upon this ad.
The Hippodrome needs a manager,
And I think you're just the lad.
Please accept this little chest of tools,
And make use of them every day.
When you're managing the stage at the Hippodrome.
In your good-natured playful way.

NAVAL ACADEMY GRADUATES 404

Denby Urges New Ensigns to Study Law of Nations

Annapolis, Md., June 7.—Borrowing them to a close application to the study of international law and to general lines of their profession as well, so they may be equipped to handle difficult problems that may confront the navy. Secretary of the Navy Denby delivered the commencement address to the graduating class of midshipmen today. He also handed out the diplomas to the graduates, who automatically were commissioned as ensigns.

Four hundred and four young men received commissions. Action in about a dozen of the cases of graduates is pending, by reason of conduct, incomplete examinations, sickness or other causes.

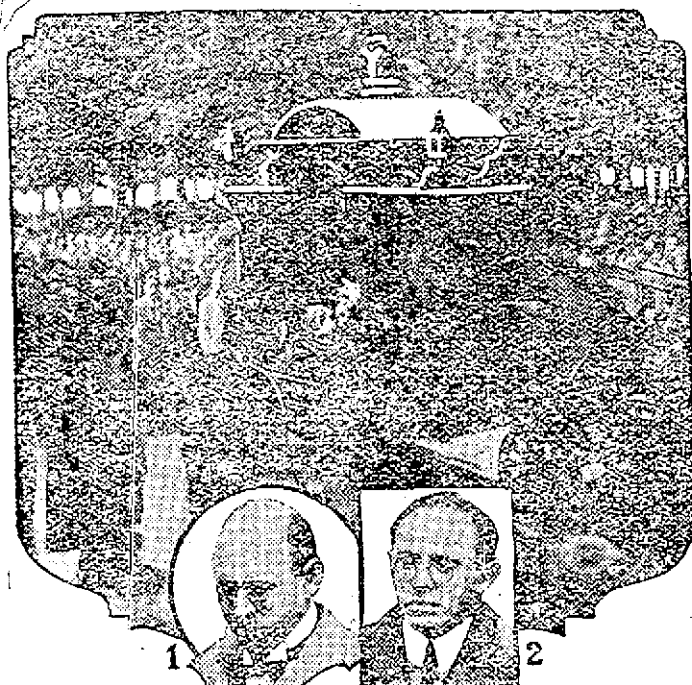

Secretary Denby told the graduates they were launching into a service where the greatest of fraternal feeling should prevail. He urged them to guard against too great severity just because they are now in a position to command.

He pointed to Admiral Dewey as an outstanding example of an American naval officer who 25 years ago found himself conqueror of a dominion. And Dewey could not have handled that situation but for the fact that he was well versed in the law of the nations, he said.

Vorowski Funeral in Berlin

Thousands jammed the streets of Berlin to witness the funeral procession of Vorowski, Soviet delegate assassinated at Lausanne. Among those who followed the hearse were (1) Krestinski, Soviet republic minister to Germany, and (2) Radeck, secretary of the Soviet delegation to Lausanne. Radeck's name has been mentioned in news of the Communist uprising at Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr.

CHINESE RUG INDUSTRY SUFFERS HEAVY LOSSES

Tientsin.—The unprecedented boom in the rug-making industry in China, which followed interruption of the Turkish and Persian trade during the war, has suffered a severe check.

Out of 500 factories which were built in Tientsin during the first years of the war, developing a daily output of more than 10,000 square inches, fewer than 300 have survived a renewal of competition. During the heyday of the industry prices soared from $1.99 and $1.90 per square foot to $3.99 and $4.00. About one-fourth of the output was consumed domestically and of the rest America took the bulk.

The slump is attributed largely to inferiority of the product under the enormously increased demand, due to inferior wool, unskillful dyeing and inexperienced workmanship.

"Here, Skinny— You Mind the Bat"

Skinny always "minds the bat." He's the onlooker, while other boys play and romp. For Skinny lacks ruggedness—he is one of America's 6,000,000 under-nourished children.

Scientists now know that many children do not get enough of the most important food element of all—vitamines. These are found more plentiful in butter than in any other food.

Give your children all the butter they will eat; they need it. And let it be the kind they will like—the purest and best you can buy—Cloverbloom.

Enforcement Publicity.

In view of recent seeming gains made by the anti-prohibition element in the country, the report made by the state prohibition director of Ohio at a conference in Washington is interesting as showing that prohibition enforcement is not fighting a losing battle everywhere.

The Ohio director reported to federal authorities that home-brewing and bootlegging are petering out in his state and that general enforcement conditions there are better than they have been at any time so far.

In practically every city in the state there are hundreds of storerooms formerly occupied by saloons now housing mercantile establishments. In most instances the stores have been remodeled with new fronts and have become an asset to the surroundings. Streets have been transformed, neighborhoods made safe and respectable, that were sore spots in the days of the saloon.

The condition in rural communities is reported as even better than in the big towns, for in them many of the local officials elected particularly for enforcement are living up to their pledges.

The home brew craze has already begun to follow the history of other fads. It is just naturally dying out. There is still an element in the population that will drink anything with a "kick" in it, and it furnishes a real problem. But on the whole the situation is growing steadily better.

Too much noise is made by opponents of prohibition, and too much prominence is given to broken prohibition laws. More publicity for such successful enforcement as already exists and for prohibition victories here and there would be a wholesome thing for the entire nation.

How France Views It.

France went into the Ruhr to compel a stubborn debtor to meet his pledges, but to date neither France nor Germany has gained much by demand or resistance, unless it be in matters of the soul. Great Britain appears to be the party of the third party who really profits.

The long ton coal production of the United Kingdom has reached the record total of 5,025,000 tons a week and, as a direct result, every British industry has felt the stimulus. The German demand for fuel has kept both mines and steamers busy in Wales as in Newcastle, and so great is the traffic in fuel that three-shift loadings are the rule in many ports.

Naturally those who desire to see France and Great Britain less friendly have striven to make capital of the situation, but the French are wise enough to discount their arguments. They know that England is profiting by the trade; but they know, too, that Newcastle coal comes higher than that of the Ruhr and that because of it the slackening of German industrial activity is inevitable, if slow.

The Imperial Republic, as it calls itself, has been living on its capital for half a dozen years, and its manufacturing costs, however lowered by the depreciated currency, are mounting steadily. If France stays in the Ruhr long enough—and it is obvious that she means to do so—she will get her money or bring the business collapse which Germany's financial chicanery has postponed so long.

Truly, the French are a sentimental people. They like the prospect of a truly poetic revenge, whatever it costs.

Saxony vs. Australia.

It is nine months, now, since Australian ports were opened again to German commerce, but the Australian government, in response to a popular demand, has refused to accord German goods the treatment provided in those familiar "most favored nation" clauses which are the standby of commercial treaties. Australia is levying her highest tariffs on whatever originates within the borders of the imperial republic.

The German republican government has not acted in the matter, but what was once the kingdom of Saxony takes up the cudgels. Its woolen manufacturers have entered into an agreement for an absolute boycott of Australian wool and are placing their orders with South Africa and the Argentine instead, where they seem likely to control the markets. Australia has enjoyed nearly 65 per cent of the German wool trade in years past, and if the boycott holds it will be serious.

Neither Australia nor Saxony can hope to profit by it, though no doubt both will take much satisfaction in making faces across ten thousand miles of ocean.

Conan Doyle's statement that he is not writing fiction any more is puzzling to anyone who has read his accounts of ectoplasm and fairy photography. But then, perhaps fiction-writing, like some other exercises, may be either conscious or unconscious.

Another reform that pedestrians might advocate is to have all automobile bumpers equipped with cushions.

Maybe the open hearth is better for immigrant material than the old-fashioned melting pot.

It may be that the trouble with the rising generation is a little too much yeast.

ROBERTS AND TITCOMB NOT TO RUN AGAIN

Putnam of York a Strong Man For County Attorney

Sheriff Haven A. Roberts and County Attorney E. S. Titcomb of York county say they are serving their last term as county officers and that they will not be a candidate in the next primary election. Roberts is serving his fourth term and Titcomb his second.

It is said that republicans who will enter the county attorney lists next year include Joseph R. Paquin of Biddeford, Roger Putnam of York and Perley H. Ford of Sanford.

And from the same semi-authentic source comes the word that Willis Frost of Berwick, Ernest L. Jones of Kennebunk and Roger S. Bragdon of Wells are among the republicans who will go after the office of high sheriff.

NEWS OF THE NAVY AND NAVY YARDS

Some Air Ship

The airship ZR-3, being constructed at the Zeppelin plant at Lake Constance, Germany, for the U. S. navy is as yet only in frame and a large amount of work, it is reported, remains to be done. The airship, from all accounts, will hardly be ready for a trial trip before November next and possibly not until next spring. The ZR-3 is the largest airship in the world and will have an estimated speed of 62.14 miles an hour.

Converting to Fuel Carriers

Due to the fact that more gasoline is now required for aviation activities as well as for power boats, the Navy Department is converting cargo ships into fuel carriers. They are being altered to carry gasoline in bulk instead of in drums.

Essex to be Floating Armory

Anticipating the summer training program for the Naval Reserve, the Navy Department is making special efforts to outfit the Reserve on the Great Lakes with training ship and other training necessities. The U. S. S. Essex, which is of wooden construction and which was built in 1875, will be turned over to the Reservists for a floating armory at Duluth. She will be relieved by the Paducah, a gunboat, formerly on survey duty.

Department is Pleased

The Navy Department is pleased with the success of the Navy Educational Correspondence Courses for enlisted men. Courses of study on storage batteries and lubrication were finished last week. It is desired to stimulate interest among recruits which will help their career in the navy.

23 Accidents, 14 Deaths

The Navy Department in a general order dated May 3, 1923, calls attention of all persons in the service to the fact that failure to carry out existing safety orders and precautions has resulted in the occurrence of many serious accidents within the past few months. Such failure has been due either to ignorance or to careless disregard of these orders and precautions. Typical accidents occurring during the last year were as follows: (a) handling or use of inflammable or explosive liquids; (b) heating hollow core castings; (c) absence of life belts from running boats; (d) working in vicinity of electric power plants or storage batteries; (e) fire in motor boats. There were twenty-three accidents and fourteen deaths, due mostly to failure to observe safety orders. The order issues instructions relative to a strict enforcement of safety precautions.

The Navy Department has authorized the Supply Corps selection board to select out an additional commander for promotion to captain. This is due to the application of Capt. Walter B.

War College Class

The next class at the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., starts on July 2, and will consist of a total of about seventy officers, approximately as follows: Line—8 captains, 20 commanders, 12 lieutenant commanders and 10 lieutenants. Medical Corps 3, Supply Corps 3, Civil Engineer Corps 2, Construction Corps 3, and Marine Corps 9.

Will Do Work at Bremerton

The Navy Department has ordered the battleship New York to the navy yard, Puget Sound, for the purpose of installing new evaporators. An explosion on the New York completely destroyed one evaporator and the entire plant is to be replaced. From three to four months' work will be required.

Stay About 6 Weeks

When the U. S. S. Savannah returns to the local yard after July 1 the ship is expected to remain for a month and a half for overhauling and repairs.

Capt. E. E. Elder of the marine corps directed the big parade of Shriners in Washington on Wednesday.

Bill and His Pipes

"Bill Hottell" of Baltimore, a foreman for the W. G. Cornell Company, has a great collection of antiques that attracts the eye of nearly every day employe and contract worker, especially his display of smoking pipes. His latest addition to the lot is an importation from the island of Pipecaux and is something that is unknown to many old time navy men who have traveled the world over. The feature of this pipe is the fact that it causes no odor even when working under forced draft.

The space is occupied by the chief engineer, paymaster and accountant, construction superintendent, engineer's office of the W. G. Cornell Company, office of sub-contractors and drafting force. The clerical force numbers about fifteen.

COAST GUARD HEAD GIVES EXPERIENCES IN ANCHORING AT SEA

The commanding officer of the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Tampa gives the following experiences in anchoring at sea, which may be of importance and interest to others:

Recently the Tampa was standing by a berg grounded on Tail of the Banks, in moderate gale with rough sea, S. W., with partially thick weather. It was plain that sight of the berg must soon be lost after nightfall, and it was important that position be retained and fuel conserved. Therefore, anchoring was tried in thirty fathoms of water with 105 fathoms chain. This anchorage was retained through forty hours of gale, alternating with strong breeze, accompanied by heavy sea, and the vessel rode somewhat more comfortably than when drifting.

Lt. Comdr. A. H. Munter, U. S. C. G., in discussing the matter of anchoring at sea says:

"It is particularly interesting to note that the Atlantic seaboard of the United States from Cape Cod to Florida has a sandy floor, gradually sloping toward the sea, thus affording excellent anchorage facilities for steamers with suitably heavy and long anchor gear."

"In conclusion it should be stated that it has been the policy of C. and R. for some time to provide extra heavy anchor gear for Coast Guard cutters so that there ought to be little hesitation on the part of Coast Guard personnel to anchor at sea in depths within the power of the windlass engine to lift the anchor and chain. There has been an abundance of precedent, both within the service and outside it, for anchoring with safety along the Atlantic coast of the United States any of our seagoing cutters."

VERMONT CLUBS ASK FOR STRICT ENFORCEMENT

Rutland, Vt., June 7.—The Vermont Federation of Women's clubs at the closing sessions of its 28th annual convention here today passed resolutions calling on the authorities for better enforcement of the 18th amendment and asking editors to give less prominence to crime news.

Judge George M. Powers of the Vermont supreme court, Attorney F. A. Berri of New York who discussed "Harding's Foreign Policy" and Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker of Austin, Tex., whose theme was "Citizenship," were the speakers.

Judge Powers' subject was "The Law and the Lady." He strongly urged club women to combat anti-Americanism in the ordinary affairs of life and especially the doctrines of the so-called "left wingers," the communist labor party, which is allied with the socialists. The speaker declared that he believed radicalism to be the greatest peril that now threatens our institutions.

400 TECH SENIORS ON ANNUAL PICNIC

Boston, June 7.—More than 400 members of Technology's senior class dressed in old clothes for the occasion left Cambridge yesterday morning for the annual senior picnic at Pemberton. Trolley cars carried the wildly shouting crowd, most of whom rode on the roofs of the cars from the college buildings on Charles River road through the city to Atlantic avenue where a special boat was provided for the trip.

Gold and black skull caps white trousers which were rapidly blackened by the roofs of the cars, and noise-makers of all descriptions of all kinds were in evidence.

Durham, June 6.—At a meeting of the letter men held here today, Philip S. Davis of Conway was elected as captain of next year's track team. Davis was the sensation of the season. Last year he performed fairly well, winning his numerals. This spring he surprised doers by breaking the college record in the high jump in the meet with Bates going over the bar at 5 feet 11 inches. In the triangular meet with the University of Vermont and Massachusetts Agricultural college he broke the record in the broad jump, making him the holder of two records in his sophomore year.

SOCIETY EVENTS AT NAVY YARD

The Commandant of the navy yard and Mrs. Douglas E. Dismukes returned last night from Concord where they have been in attendance at the St. Paul's School anniversary, their son, Douglas E. Dismukes, Jr., being a student there.

Several from the navy yard were among the guests at a card party given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Crosby, wife of Dr. Crosby.

Mrs. Douglas E. Dismukes left today for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to attend the reunion of her class at Vassar College.

Miss Judith Lee Dismukes, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Dismukes, who is a student at Vassar College, arrives home today.

TELEPHONE JOKER NEARLY CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN

Some joker on the telephone at Reading, Pa., nearly caused the death of Mrs. Clayton Miller, wife of a hotel proprietor by calling her to the phone and informing her that her husband was dead from blood poisoning in a hospital. Mrs. Miller collapsed and could not be revived for some time. Police are hunting the person who telephoned.

MANY WOMEN PREACHERS IN U. S.

Chicago, June 8.—There are 178 women preachers of various denominations in the United States, all of whom are members of the International Association of Women Preachers, according to the list of members recently made public here. Six women preachers of foreign lands also belong to the association, three in China, two in India and one in Africa.
Illinois leads in the number of women preachers with 33.17 of them being in the city of Chicago. Kansas ranks second with 30 women ministers, seven of whom are at Wichita. Nebraska is third in numbers with 18.

PUT TOWN CLOCK IN HOURING FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

Since Governor Templeton of Connecticut signed the anti-daylight saving act last week some clocks in the different places are running on daylight, a few on standard time, others have been stopped entirely and still others covered up until fall. The town clock in Stonington purchased by public subscription, was stopped at noon and the hands tied together with crepe to show the contempt of the town for the farmer legislature which passed the law.

RED CROSS SENDS $5,000 FOR CANAAN STRICKEN FAMILIES

(By Associated Press)

Boston, June 8.—A check for $5000 drawn against the National Disaster Relief Fund of the American Red Cross and payable to the Lebanon New Hampshire Chapter of the Red Cross will be taken to Canaan, N. H., today by Roy M. Cushman, director of the Disaster Relief for the New England Division of the Red Cross, as the first installment of such sum as may be necessary to assist families that suffered heavy losses in the Canaan fire last Saturday to re-establish themselves. Mr. Cushman will be accompanied by Arthur S. Morris, New England Division disbursing officer. They will inform the Canaan rehabilitation committee that the Red Cross stands ready to take charge of family rehabilitation work in Canaan, working in co-operation with the local committee.

READ THIS GIRLS: DO YOU BELIEVE IT?

New York, June 8.—Maybe you've already noticed it and the official announcement won't mean a thing, but just the same the United Women's Neckwear League of America wants to tell the world that they are going to wear 'em lower this summer. Not skirts. Necks.

According to a statement issued by M. Mesesohn, executive chairman, the modern maid, double crossed by the Parisian designers who decreed long skirts, has found something else to show. Neck.

that the neckwear houses will do all they can to help the modern maid get even with those Parisian designers.

Opposition may be aroused among the belt manufacturers, who feel that their territory is being encroached upon.

The league's campaign ought to succeed. It has a slogan: "What has been added at the bottom must be taken from the top!"

PRESIDENT OF CHINA REFUSES TO ACCEPT RESIGNATIONS

effort is being made by President Li to conciliate the self-deposed minister.

INVESTIGATING BOOTLEGGING

New York, June 8.—Judge Crain, who has investigated bootleg graft charges against the police, today requested the police department to turn over to him the names and addresses of all persons who had complained of paying policemen for protection from prosecution of bootlegging charges. The possession of this information, he said, would enable the magistrate to spot all persons who had complained about enforcement of the late Mullan-Gage act.

P. H. S. SENIORS PULL JUNIORS INTO CREEK

The annual rope pull between the Seniors and Juniors took place yesterday at Langdon's Creek, Lafayette road. Twenty stalwart boys, representing the "beef" and "brawn" of the classes were placed on each end of the rope by the team captains. Coach Jordan fired the pistol that set them to their task and in just ten minutes the Seniors showed the result of their experience gained last year by thoroughly drenching the 1924 boys in the muck and mire of the creek. The Seniors were led by Capt. Orville Badger and the Juniors by Capt. Earnest Chick.

That was a wonderful display of good nerve shown by the Juniors when every man hung to the rope going into the creek of mud and two feet of water. It was an exciting time and the affair was the liveliest that has been held for years.

The Seniors were in fine trim and were heavier. "Bill" Woods the referee had little to do—the victory was complete.

UNIVERSALIST NOTES

Adult and child will be drawn together happily Sunday morning when church and school will join in the observance of Children's Day at the regular church hour.

A special order of service in which members of the school will take part has been arranged, in which the regular congregation is especially invited, and desired, to participate.

The service of christening and dedication of children is set for 11.30 a.m. Friends may enhance the beauty of the morning hour by sending flowers, especially spray flowers, to the vestry

Saturday afternoon or evening. The loan of singing birds to help express the "voices of nature" will be much appreciated. Such may be brought Sunday morning or will be called for and delivered if notified.

JOHN ALDEN FLOUR

Hot Griddle Cakes For Breakfast

Light, tender griddle cakes are just the thing with which to start the day right. Here is a recipe that is easily followed and will give you excellent results.

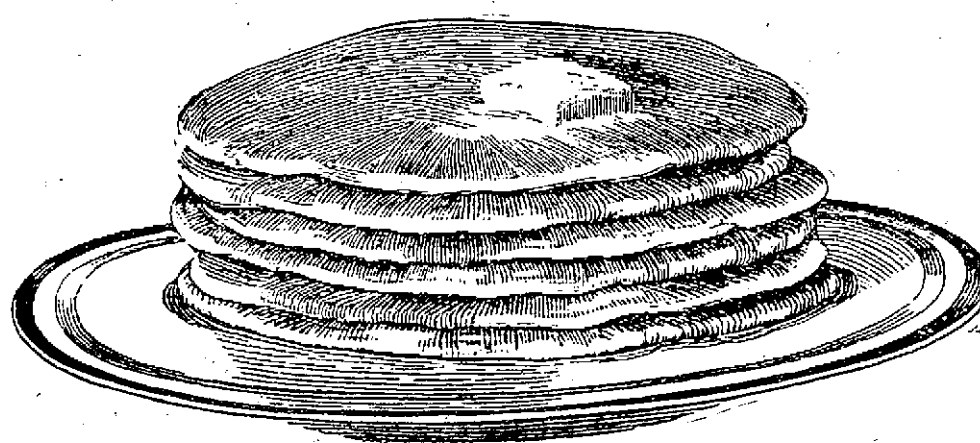

Remember in making griddle cakes that the ingredients you use are just as important as the method of using them. That is one reason why you will be particularly pleased when you use John Alden Flour as directed here.

John Alden Flour has long been the choice of the famous cooks of New England. They know that by using a flour of which they are sure, like Priscilla they can "consecrate with hymns the common cares of the household."

You will find that all your cooking and baking will be easier, more delicious and more economical if you insist upon John Alden Flour.

EAT MORE WHEAT

Griddle Cakes

Drop the batter by spoonful on the griddle—or a heavy frying pan may be used. Have the griddle only slightly greased, as too much fat toughens the cake. Turn when the upper side is filled with bubbles. Turn a griddle cake only once. Have serving plate hot, as a cold plate will make a soggy griddle cake.

1 cup John Alden Flour,
1/4 teaspoon salt,
2 teaspoons baking powder,
1 cup milk
1 egg,
1 teaspoon melted fat.

All measurements are level. Sift the John Alden Flour once before measuring.

Sift together flour, salt, and baking powder. Add milk and melted shortening to well beaten egg. Mix thoroughly with dry ingredients and bake on a slightly greased hot iron griddle, or an ungreased aluminum griddle.

FARRAR DENIES FORGIVING LOU

Singer Declares Husband Isn't Telling the Truth

New York, June 7.—"We have quit paying attention to this fellow's self-advertisement of his conquest," Geraldine Farrar, prima donna, said today through her counsel in reply to the statement of Lou Tellegen that she forgave the indiscretions which are serving as the basis of her action for divorce.

Samuel Utermeyer, counsel for Miss Farrar, said he was amazed at Tellegen's frank admission with one of the correspondents, Katherine Clifford.

"Mr. Tellegen's statement that I forgave him for his friendship with Miss Clifford long before I brought suit for divorce is untrue," the singer said through her attorney. "This is borne out by the record. I have already testified I knew nothing of the publication of a story dealing with Miss Clifford, my husband and an incident in a San Francisco hotel.

"If Mr. Tellegen says I talked over the incident with him and told him I forgave him he is not telling the truth. I first learned of it after I decided to bring this action. Furthermore, my secretary supported this, testifying she had kept the clipping away from me for fear it would interfere with my singing."

WILL LAY OFF SOME MEN AT TWO CUSTOM HOUSES

Washington, June 7.—The treasury department will furlough part of the labor personnel of the New York and Boston custom houses in order to keep within appropriations made for maintenance of the customs service. Although both ports are already short-handed, officials said today that they could see no way to avoid an increase in congested conditions there until July 1 when new appropriations become available.

KITTERY

Kittery, June 8.—The old fashioned dance given by the Ladies' Auxiliary S. of V. on Wednesday evening was a great success there being a very large attendance. Miss Zylha Woods of Portsmouth pleased every one with her dances in costume. One of the features of the evening was the balance dance. Sergt. Brainard held the lucky number for the hand painted sofa pillow which was a beautiful thing, being the work of one of the members. Mrs. Ditonski's orchestra furnished the music.

SAYS HIS PRAYERS WERE ANSWERED BY PRISON SENTENCE

Knoxville, Tenn.—Royal Harris, who said he had attempted to fake himself into the Sing Sing electric chair as the slayer of Joseph B. Elwell, New York turfman and whist expert, asked Federal Judge Xenophon Hicks recently to sentence him to the federal penitentiary and won his plea.

Harris, after pleading guilty to impersonating a federal agent, said: "Ever since I was so high I've been so crooked I could not lie straight in bed. I have prayed every night to become straight, but the next morning I would do the same thing again. I think my first prison sentence is the answer to all my prayers."

Judge Hicks imposed the limit, a fine of $500 and a prison sentence of two years.

Harris, in speaking of the Elwell case, said:

"I was arrested on another charge and I told them I killed Elwell. They put me through a grueling third degree. I persisted and tried to be sent to the electric chair, but Gov. Whitman, who had studied the affair, caught me in some discrepancies in the description of the apartment. They wouldn't send me to the chair then and I'm sorry of it."

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES. District of Maine. Southern Division. CONSOLIDATION COAL COMPANY, COMPLAINANT VS. ATLANTIC SHORE RAILWAY, DEFENDANT.

In Equity No. 747 Fidelity Trust Company, Trustee, Intervenor for foreclosure of Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway First Mortgage dated March 1st, 1897.

Notice of Sale under Foreclosure Decree upon First Mortgage Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway.

Public notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decree made and entered June 1, 1923, by the United States District Court for the District of Maine on the Intervening Petition of the State Street Trust Company in the above entitled cause, I, the undersigned, Philip G. Clifford, Special Master appointed by said Court to make this sale, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder thereof on Thursday, the 14th day of June, 1923, at the hour of eleven thirty o'clock in the forenoon, at Alfred in the County of York and State of Maine, at the front door of the Court House of said County of York, located at said Alfred, as directed by said decree and subject to the confirmation of the Court as therein provided, sell at public auction to the highest bidder thereof in conformity with the directions in that behalf in said decree particularly set forth, all the property described in said decree as follows, to wit:

"First: All the right, title and interest, estate and property of the said Company in and to all and singular the electric railway now or hereafter owned, constructed, operated and maintained by the said Company in Kittery and York and elsewhere in the said State of Maine; also all water rights, all the ways and rights of ways now or hereafter acquired by the said Company; together with all dms, canals, privileges, structures, houses, wharves, machinery, tools, engines, cars, dynamos, telegraph wires, fuel boats, wharves and all other things whatsoever which now belong or pertain to or which may be owned or used for the purpose of constructing, operating or maintaining its said works; and all profits, tolls, income and revenue to arise therefrom, and from all other sources, and all profits, incomes and emoluments derived from any and all contracts now or hereafter made with any city, town or municipal or village corporation, in said State of Maine, and all other property, real, personal and mixed, now belonging to said Company, or which may be by it acquired in the maintenance and operation of its works in said State of Maine, together with its franchises, charter and amendments that it or it by it now or hereafter acquired, and all powers, grants, rights, privileges, benefits, advantages, immunities and exemptions granted thereby, and all other property of every name and nature, which now belong to or may hereafter be acquired by the said Company and connected with or appertaining to its works aforesaid;

"Second: All the land and buildings thereon situated in said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway, and bounded Southerly by said Bow Street, about thirty-one (31) feet Easterly of land of J. H. Thompson and others, now occupied by Charles E. Boynton, forty-four (44) feet more or less from said street to Piscataqua River, Northerly by said River forty (40) feet more or less, Westerly by land of Ezra H. Winchester from said River to said street, subject, however, to such rights of way to and from Ceres Street as lawfully exist over and upon the premises. Being the same premises described in a Deed of Warranty from Frank Jones to the Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway dated March 1, 1897, and recorded in the records of Rockingham County, the State of New Hampshire in Volume 561, Page 317."

The property to be sold includes all the property, rights, interests, franchises and privileges of said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway particularly mentioned and described in a certain Indenture of Mortgage dated March 1, 1897, between said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway to Waterville Trust and Safe Deposit Company, Trustee, and in a certain mortgage supplemental thereto dated January 14, 1899, from said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway to Waterville Trust Company, together with all property, rights, interests and franchises of every kind and character however described and wherever situated which the said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway or the Receiver of the Portsmouth, Dover and York Street Railway since said March 1, 1897, has in any manner acquired and which are, or may be, now owned, held or possessed by said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway (including all cash, cash assets, claims of credit, accounts and items receivable belonging to said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway and subject to the lien of said mortgage and supplemental mortgage, which shall have come into the possession or control of said Receiver since April 30, 1917, and which shall be in his possession or under his control at the time of the delivery of this decree) and including also any cash, securities or other assets then in the possession or control of the Fidelity Trust Company, Trustee (Successor to said Waterville Trust and Safe Deposit Company) and said Waterville Trust Company) under and subject to the terms and provisions of said mortgages and substitution for, or in lieu of, any other property originally covered by and subject to either of said mortgages or otherwise, subject, however, to the prior lien, if any, and interest, stated in Article Fourth of said decree, and excepting such property as shall be the subject of a mortgage supplemental thereto dated January 14, 1899, or of the mortgage supplemental thereto dated January 14, 1899, was specifically excepted from the lien thereof or such as has been duly released from the lien of said mortgage or of the mortgage supplemental thereto. Without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, reference is hereby made, for a more particular description of a part of the property included in the above to the following instruments, namely:

1. Indenture of Mortgage from Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway to Waterville Trust & Safe Deposit Company, Trustee, dated March 1, 1897, and recorded, among other places, in York County, Maine, Registry of Deeds, Book 487, Page 76.

2. Supplemental Mortgage from Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway to Waterville Trust Company, Trustee, dated January 14, 1899, and recorded in Rockingham County, N. H., Registry of Deeds, Volume 564, Page 401.

3. Certificate of Enrollment of steamer "Kittery" by Rufus N. Elwell, Collector of Customs, Portsmouth, N. H., dated August 29, 1900, bearing official number 161,161—Certificate of Enrollment of screw steamer "Alice Howard" by Rufus N. Elwell, Collector of Customs, Portsmouth, N. H., dated March 9, 1901, bearing official number 107,494.

The property directed to be sold by this decree shall be sold subject to any valid and subsisting prior liens thereon, if any, or valid and subsisting prior interests, (legal or equitable), therein, if any.

The sale of said property shall be made without valuation, appraisal, rights of redemption or extension and purchaser shall hold, possess and enjoy said property so conveyed and transferred and all rights, privileges, immunities and franchises appertaining thereto free and discharged from the lien and encumbrance of the said mortgage of said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway dated March 1, 1897, and of the mortgage supplemental thereto, dated January 14, 1899, and subject to the provisions of Article Seventh of said decree free from all claims, rights, interests or equity of redemption of, in or to said property by or of the said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway and by or of the legal successors to and the creditors and stockholders of the said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway and by or of all other persons save only such claims as are expressly reserved.

Said purchaser or his assignees may at his or their option cease to exercise the franchises and privileges appertaining to the property and assets sold to him pursuant to said decree and may take, hold and dispose of said property and assets free from any obligation, to operate the same as a railroad.

No person will be entitled to bid for the property to be sold under said decree unless such person shall first deposit with the Special Master, as a pledge that he will make good his bid in the event of its acceptance, amounts, either in cash or certified checks on some national bank or trust company acceptable to the Special Master, and made or endorsed payable to his order, or first mortgage bonds secured by said Indenture of Mortgage dated March 1, 1897, in bearer form, and if coupon bonds, accompanied by the coupons of March 1, 1916, and all subsequent coupons as follows:

(1) The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) in cash or certified check, or fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) principal amount of said bonds, or the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) in cash or certified check and partly in said bonds but in the same relative proportion.

In lieu of the deposit of bonds and coupons in accordance with the foregoing requirements, the Special Master may accept a certificate of any national bank or trust company acceptable to the Special Master that it holds, for the purchaser of the property, the sum of the required character and principal amount in bearer form, and, if in coupon form, accompanied by the required coupons.

Any deposit so received by the Special Master from any unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him after the property shall be struck off. The deposit received from the successful bidder shall be applied on account of the purchase price of the property.

In case any bidder, upon the acceptance of his bid by the Special Master and confirmation by the Court, shall fail to comply within a period of ten (10) days after the entry thereof with an order of said Court requiring or relating to the payment of the balance of the purchase price, then the money or bonds deposited by such accepted bidder as hereinbefore provided, shall be forfeited as a penalty for such failure and shall be applied to the payment of the expenses of a re-sale and to make good any deficiency in case the property shall be sold for a less price on such re-sale and for such other purposes as the Court may direct, but, except as herein provided, no other personal liability in respect to the payment of the bid price shall be assumed by the bidder.

If the Court shall not confirm any sale, the deposit made by the accepted bidder at such sale shall forthwith be returned to such bidder.

The purchaser, on confirmation of the sale, shall make such further payment or payments in cash on account of the purchase price (in addition to the cash or bonds or proceeds of any certified check theretofore deposited by said purchaser with the Special Master at the time of sale as hereinbefore provided which said cash or proceeds shall be received as part of the purchase price) as the Court may from time to time direct. The remainder of said purchase price not required to be paid in cash may be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good the balance of his bid, in whole or in part, by turning in to be paid or cancelled or to have payment on account credited thereon, bonds secured by said mortgage from said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway dated March 1, 1897, and unpaid past due coupons appertaining thereto, entitled to share in the proceeds of the distribution of the sale, and such purchaser shall thereupon be credited therefor on account of the purchase price of the property, purchase by him such amounts as would be payable on such bonds and coupons out of the proceeds of sale if the whole amount of the purchase price were paid in cash.

The purchaser or purchasers at the sale under said decree, and his or their successors or assigns, shall, as part of the consideration of the property purchased, and in addition to the sums bid by him or them, make such property as he or they may be paid or cancelled or to have payment on account credited thereof subject to the provisions of Article Fourth of said decree, so far as applicable, and upon the express condition that such property shall be charged with the payment, satisfaction and discharge of the following:

1. Any taxes and other public charges which may be a lien upon or chargeable against the property or franchises of the Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway herein directed to be sold.

2. Any Receiver's certificates and other indebtedness and liabilities of the Receiver or said Portsmouth, Dover and York Street Railway legally incurred in this cause or in any of the constituent causes in the management or operation of the property of the Street Railway herein directed to be sold and otherwise in the discharge of his duty as such Receiver between April 30, 1917, and the date of his appointment, and the delivery by him to the purchaser or purchasers of possession of the property sold to the extent that such indebtedness and liabilities constitute proper and valid liens or charges upon or against the property and interests covered by said mortgage and supplemental mortgage from said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway dated March 1, 1897, and January 14, 1899, respectively, in lien or equity to said mortgages and have not been paid or shall not be paid out of moneys in possession of the Receiver.

3. Any unpaid claims of creditors of the Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway which have been or shall be admitted by the parties in interest or adjudged by this Court to be prior in lien or superior in equity to the said mortgage of said Portsmouth, Kittery and York Street Railway dated March 1, 1897, and to the mortgage supplemental thereto.

Every deed and the delivery thereof to the purchaser shall, however, be subject to the condition that the Court may re-take and re-sell the property embraced in such deed in case the purchaser, or his assigns, shall fail to pay any balance of the purchase price remaining unpaid or to comply with any other provision contained in said decree binding upon the purchaser.

Any purchaser shall be allowed one (1) month from the date of the confirmation of the sale within which to elect whether or not to adopt or continue in force or to refuse to adopt any lease, traffic or operating agreement, power contract or other executory contract which may be included in the property sold to such purchaser or which may constitute an incident or appurtenance thereto. Such election shall be made by an instrument in writing subscribed by such purchaser, his successors or assigns, and filed in the office of the Clerk of the United States District Court for the District of Maine. Failure of such purchaser, his successors or assigns, to file such statement or election to refuse to adopt such lease, traffic or operating agreement or contract within the period of one (1) month above allowed, shall be held to constitute an election to adopt and accept the same as part of the property purchased, all as particularly set out in Article Sixth of said decree.

For a more particular description of the property to be sold and the terms and conditions of the sale, reference is hereby specifically made to the above mentioned decree and notice is hereby given that said sale will be made subject to all the terms, provisions and conditions of said decree, whether mentioned in this notice or not mentioned, and that the purchaser will be bound by all the terms, provisions and conditions of said decree any statements or representations in this notice to the contrary notwithstanding.

Dated at Portland in the District of Maine this 8th day of June, 1923.

PHILIP G. CLIFFORD, Special Master.

You'll win the fight against Constipation with Kellogg's Bran!

It is wonderful news for every constipation sufferer to know that Kellogg's Bran guarantees permanent relief if it is eaten regularly—because it is ALL BRAN! Two tablespoonfuls each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases—taken consistently—will work health wonders, driving out toxic poisons, freeing affected organs and allowing nature to eliminate the waste in its own way!

Think what this means to health when you know that constipation is responsible for a large majority of the most dreaded human ailments; that, in milder form, it is responsible for sick headaches, biliousness, nausea, sour breath, pimples, etc.

Get a package of Kellogg's Bran to-day and fight against constipation and what it leads to! Free your family from its ravages; free yourself from its grip! Within a week you will be surprised at the improvement.

Kellogg's Bran is not only a permanent relief from constipation, but it is a health food, containing mineral salts as well as other vital food elements that are a necessity to human life.

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, or sprinkle it on or mix it with other hot or cold cereals because it is ready to eat. It is delicious cooked with hot cereals. And, you have missed much if you do not know the delights of bran muffins, bran raisin bread, bran griddle cakes, etc.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES MILLIONS AWAY IN 1922

New York.—Material aid to the progress of medical science throughout the world in the former substantial monetary grants totaling millions of dollars to medical schools, hospitals and individuals, was furnished by the Rockefeller Foundation during 1922; said a summary of the annual report of the foundation, made public recently.

The scope of the work embraced virtually every civilized country where either personal representatives of the foundation assisted in public health surveys and educational projects, or local boards administered appropriations dedicated to individual research and investigation, the report shows.

In the United States the foundation pledged $1,135,000 toward new buildings for the College of Medicine, at the University of Iowa, co-operated with state boards of health in maintaining institutes and instruction for health workers, shared in malaria control, resurveyed centers of hookworm infection in southern states and took part in promoting full-time health service in eighteen states of the Union.

The outstanding work of the foundation in foreign countries consisted of assistance to pre-medical education in China by monetary appropriations to schools and hospitals; the granting of $2,000,000 toward the building of a school of hygiene in London, and the award of emergency research funds to German, French and Russian medical men, who were in a serious plight due to post-war conditions.

Until the latter appropriations were made available, the increased cost of research menaced the quality, if not the very existence of German medical science, the statement said. Under the foundation's fellowship plan a committee of German scientists will appropriate to a group of exceptionally promising investigators and teachers sums of money to be used for necessary apparatus, books and periodicals.

On the whole, President Vincent said, the response of popular governments, of democratic publics, and of individuals to the demands of medicine has been encouraging. Yet, side by side with the progressive attitude exists disheartening instances of almost benighted ignorance toward medicine, he said.

To dispel this ignorance and further the progress of true medical science the Rockefeller Foundation is working according to President Vincent.

SOUTH ELIOT

South Eliot, June 8.—Mrs. Anna Everson arrived home Monday evening after spending a most enjoyable week with her sister, Mrs. Gulbrandsen, in Orange, New Jersey.

We are glad to know that Eliot is to have transportation to and from Portsmouth (Boston and Maine) bridge, beginning next Saturday. The Norfolk & Bristol Company have the project in hand, so reads the poster. Half a loaf is better than none. We need the steel bridge opened and then travel straight into the city. Please wake up Messrs. Authorities, and give to us, and the general public a continuous right of way over that steel bridge.

Eliot high had their annual picnic last Tuesday. Camp "Up-E-Nur" in South Berwick was the scene of their merriment. Among the sports were bathing, ball game and a stunt by each class. Dinner and lunches were served.

Mrs. Olive Tobey has been in failing health for some time, but we are glad to say she is some better at this writing.

Everyone in the town extend their sympathy to Dr. J. L. M. Willis in the recent death of his wife.

The Baccalaureate of the Eliot high is announced for next Sunday morning in the Congregational church. All the local ministers will take part in the service and the sermon will be preached by Rev. H. E. Young.

Owing to the union service in the Congregational church next Sunday morning no morning service will be held in the M. E. church. Under the circumstances it has been decided to hold the Sunday school session at 9.30 in the morning, closing in ample time to allow all to attend the union service. At 6.30 p. m. the Epworth League meeting will be held. Mrs. Lillian Earl will be the leader. The topic for the evening will be "What is Christian Citizenship?" At 7.30 the praise service will be held to be followed by a sermon on "Promise and Power."

Owing to the prevalence of measles the children's concert at the M. E. church has been postponed to June the 24th.

CHRIST CHURCH

The Rt. Rev. Edward M. Parker, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of New Hampshire will make his annual visitation to the parish on Friday, June 8th, and administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of candidates at 7.30 p. m. He will also confirm several sick persons privately on Saturday morning leaving at a later hour for a Confirmation at Christ church, Exeter.

In his visit to this city Bishop Parker will be accompanied by the Rev. Arthur M. Dunstan, the executive secretary of the Diocese and the Rev. W. J. Loring, Clark, D. D., of Seabrook, Tenn. Dr. Clark is in charge of the Department of Parochial Missions in the Episcopal church and is to spend the month of June in the Diocese of N. H., preparing for a Diocesan Parochial Mission to be held in October.

After the service tomorrow evening Dr. Clark will address a gathering of laymen in the Brotherhood room in the parish house. A cordial invitation is given to men to come and hear him.

"GRAND TO HAVE YOUR HEALTH" says Mrs. Jenny Evans of Detroit, Mich. Few of us appreciate our health until we lose it. Mrs. Evans worked in a factory but owing to a weakness, and pains in her back she was forced to give up work. She says: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me well. It is grand to have your health, to feel well all the time and to go around like other women without that awful torture of female troubles." Women who are suffering from such troubles should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the tried and true medicine, now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for female ills.

WOMAN TURNS CARPENTER TO BUILD OVER HER HOME

Concord, N. H., June 6.—Miss Margaret Emery, daughter of the Rev. W. Stanley Emery, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in this city, opened her quaint summer home in Hopkinton, to friends today. Miss Emery turned carpenter to remodel the place, laying the laths, painting the inside and outside herself, chopping the wood for the fireplace, retouching all the furniture and constructing several rrench and lattice windows.

GREENLAND

Greenland June 5.—On Monday, June 11, the Children's Missionary society will give a party on the lawn at the parsonage at 3.30. All children under eight years of age are invited to come. The mothers are also cordially invited to come with the children. The party is in charge of Miss Alberta Bennett. The children will bring their mite boxes to be opened at the party.

The pastor of the Federated church, Rev. Elmer F. Newell and Miss Mary E. Pickering, a delegate from Greenland attended the Rockingham Association of Congregational churches at a meeting held at Kingston on Wednesday.

A number of children are to be baptized at the morning service at the Federated Church next Sunday. If there are other parents who wish their children baptized, the pastor would be pleased to be informed. Come to the Children's Concert at 10.45 a. m.

WAR PHOTOGRAPHER TO FACE CHARGES

D. C. Thompson Arrested For Impersonating Naval Officers and Passing Worthless Checks

Chicago.—Donald C. Thompson, war photographer, was arrested here last night by agents of the Department of Justice on charges of impersonating naval officers and passing worthless checks. Thompson has been arrested on similar charges twice previously, federal officers asserted.

Thompson and his wife left Kansas during the world war, he as a photographer for a magazine and she as a Red Cross worker; it was understood here. Mrs. Thompson now is said to be on the Pacific Coast.

Thompson's pictures and films of war scenes, including glimpses of the Kaiser and the German and Russian armies, commanded attention in magazines and newspapers, and later he talked before clubs and other organizations. He is said to be wanted by the New York office of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice for having posed as Commander Frederick E. Pierson, P. S. N., and also as Lieut. Commander Wainwright and to have passed several worthless checks.

Thompson was found at one of the most prominent hotels where he had a suite of three rooms, a young woman secretary and photographic lenses said to be valued at several thousand dollars.

ENCAMPMENT TO BE HELD IN DOVER

The New Hampshire State Encampment Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held in Dover on Wednesday, June 27. The encampment will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and will probably occupy the remainder of the day. It is expected that there will be seventy-five delegates present from Manchester, Concord, Keene, Nashua, Claremont, Durham and other posts of Veterans of Foreign Wars in the state. It is said that there will be a lot of important business to come before the encampment, including the annual election of state officers.

5,000,000 BOYS LABOR GAINFULLY IN THE U. S.

(By Associated Press)

Portschach, Austria, May 15.—Is your boy in or headed for that group, composing three-quarters of the world's workers with hands and brain, who are misfits or ill trained? What is being done and should be done to meet this and related problems is dealt with in a report prepared for presentation June 5 to the Second World's Conference of Y. M. C. A. Workers with Boys by an international vocational commission.

A section of the report dealing with the vocational status of boyhood in the United States was prepared by C. C. Robinson of New York City, author of vocational books and secretary of the International Committee, Y. M. C. A., for work with employed boys. His report is based in part on a series of special hearings, the participants in which included college and university professors, school teachers, editors, business and industrial managers, labor leaders, specialists in mental hygiene, and representatives of the church, national societies and government bureaus.

The largest hearing, Mr. Robinson reports, both in numbers and variety of representation, was at San Francisco, where the junior high school and the private school for teaching trades came in for strong commendation. Labor representatives favored continuation schools, and spoke strongly against working boys trying to attend school at night.

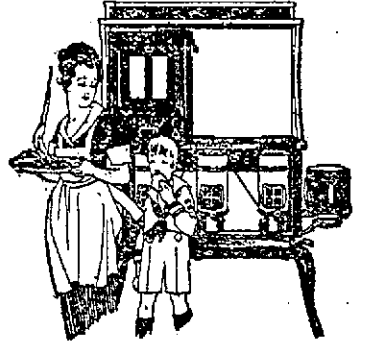

Approximately 5,000,000 boys, 14 to 20 years of age, are gainfully employed in the United States, the report points out. In addition at least half as many more attend school and work part time. This is particularly true of ambitious high school boys even from what are called good families, and many boys from poorer homes also work part time while they are in the grade schools. In most sections of the country state laws prevent boys from working earlier than 14 years of age and there is a tendency on the part of social workers to push this age to 16 years. In most states boys who work between 14 and 16 do so upon work-certificates and are obliged to continue some educational work. Twenty-one states have formed continuation schools for this purpose.

Increasingly, the report states, effort is being made by educators, the more enlightened employers, and welfare agencies of all kinds to provide for all boys, rich and poor, vocational guidance and vocational education. The whole matter of vocational guidance, wisely done, is directed toward saving boys from disaster.

Spare It!

Really, Ethyl Dkystra, of Holland, Mich., ought to spare that tree. If she chops it down Mrs. W. C. Nelson, of Des Moines, Ia., is in for a big splash. This, snapped at Bear Mountain, N. Y., where Camp Fire Girls executives are meeting.

public schools in vocational help in the past decade. Private trade schools have made valuable contributions in pioneering in various types of education. The new plan of the Junior Division of the U. S. Employment Service is a hopeful step.

Studies conducted by Mr. Robinson among 183 boys as to their ambitions compared with their father's occupations show a definite tendency to move up in the social scale. None of the group chose to be day laborers, and few are seeking small commercial positions, most of the boys whose fathers are in such work expressing eagerness to enter the professions or higher commercial occupations. However, nearly as many boys as have fathers in skilled trades desire to take up similar work, the high pay being the attraction.

A five-year occupational study of hundreds of high school pupils, both boys and girls, revealed that the boys of comparatively low intelligence chose vocations far beyond their powers, only 9 per cent being engaged, at the end of five years, in occupations as favorable as was their original preference. "Either the girls chose more wisely as to fitness," says the report, "or else they were more moderate in their ambitions. Even in cases of higher intelligence, the girls seem to have a much better percentage than the boys. Doubtless this situation will improve in time, some of the boys reaching positions more favorably comparable with their schoolboy ambitions."

"The situation is an explanation of the justification of the 'blind alley' job, the vice of which consists in staying too long in that particular place. Many such jobs have a proper place in a socialized economic order; they are important cogs in the commercial and industrial machine, and if used only temporarily, serve a purpose in enabling boys to earn needed money while preparing themselves for something better."

LOCOMOTIVE WITH UNIQUE FEATURES

Ninety Feet Long, Tender Carries 17 Tons of Coal, 10,000 Gallons of Water

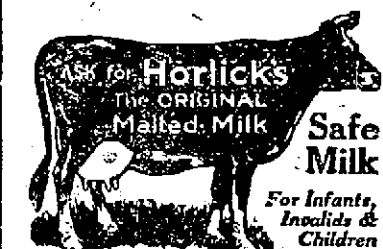

Montreal, Que.—Designed specially for speed and for economy of operation, engine No. 6000, the largest passenger locomotive in Canada, has just arrived in Montreal, for the service of the Canadian National Railways. It is the first of 16 engines which are to be built by the Canadian Locomotive Company, Kingston, Ont., for the National Railways. Of these, six are to be put into operation by the National Railways between Montreal and Toronto, while the remaining 10 will be shipped to the Atlantic division, where they will be put into service between Moncton, N. B., and points eastward.

The engine is of the mountain type and has many unique features about it. Its over-all length is approximately 90 feet, including the tender, which is the first one to be designed with 12 wheels, six on each side. The tender will carry 17 tons of coal and 10,000 imperial gallons of water. Although the engine is the most powerful steel plant designed for passenger service in Canada, and capable of making high speed and long distance runs, its cost of operation has been reduced to a minimum.

Rimless Eyeglasses Are Always Dignified

In considering eyeglasses from the standpoint of a personal ornament there are times when the question arises of the correct style to be worn for certain occasions or functions.

A safe rule is to wear rimless glasses when in doubt. Some styles are suitable only for the purpose for which they were designed, but rimless glasses are usually in good form and they generally enhance the dignity of the wearer.

We supply rimless eyeglasses in numerous styles worked in solid gold, gold filled and special materials.

O'NEIL REMAINS IN FIRE DEPT.

Mayor Waldron Breaks Tie Vote in City Council

Terrence O'Neil, a second assistant engineer of the Dover Fire Department who was removed by a vote of the city council last week, was reinstated last night by the failure of one of the new aldermen present to vote, causing a tie which was broken by Mayor Waldron in favor of O'Neil. Mr. O'Neil's opponent was Edward P. Knott, a fireman. Each candidate received four votes, the mayor's ballot resulting in a deciding vote for Mr. O'Neil. On the vote for a first assistant engineer, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Patrick J. Bradley, four ballots were required. There were three candidates with ex-Asst. Engineer Irving Wentworth in the lead but on the final balloting William Gouin was elected.

TOMMY GIBBONS HAS MADE BOXING HIS LIFE CAREER

(By Associated Press)

St. Paul, June 7.—Just about the time most anxious fathers are "feeling out" their sons to ascertain their life work desires, a young man of St. Paul, "hardly more than a kid," his friends said, gripped the lower rung of the ladder of pugilistic fame.

It was his selection for a life profession, and how well he has mastered it will be demonstrated July 4 when he seeks to wrest the heavyweight boxing crown from Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Montana.

For the young man who decided on fistfists as a life work was Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, only a youth of 16 years when he answered the lure of the game. Many boxers have gained their start in the ring through their prowess as rough and tumble mixers, with science developed later as a necessary requisite to greater success.

Not so with Tommy Gibbons. It was purely a business proposition with him and he selected his career for the same reason that many other young men have entered less violent professions. It was the attraction of more money than he could make in any other way.

Tommy's path had been beaten by his brother, Mike Gibbons, five years his senior, whose boxing skill later gained for him the sobriquet of "The Phantom." It was the verbal persuasion of Mike, coupled with his success at fighting that decided Tommy.

"I had left school and had gone to work for the Great Northern Railway here," he said in recounting his start. "Of course, I was only making a little money; no more than any kid of that age is likely to make."

"One day Mike came to me with a proposition that I enter the ring. He said he could pay me more than the railroad company could, and as I had watched with some envy the money Mike was making, I decided to take him up."

"Mike was a great teacher, and from that time until very recent years when Mike's eyes have been bothering him, he gave me thorough instruction. It is to this, of course, that I owe much of whatever boxing ability I possess."

It was the luster cast over him by his brother's success that took Tommy into his first fights—in a quiet affair at a little "athletic club" the young men maintained out in the Gibbons neighborhood.

"The fellows expected me to be a fighter just because Mike was," Tommy said, "and so they generally put me against big fellows. I didn't have much to gain for they all expected me to win their fights, but I had a lot to lose—at least it seemed a lot then—and so I naturally fought 'over my head' as a rule."

The father of Mike and Tommy had a keen aversion to fighting. It was over his strong protests that Mike entered the game but when the senior Gibbons saw the remuneration that might result from a single engagement his opposition gradually vanished and had disappeared by the time Tommy was ready for the professional ring.

However, the senior Gibbons never saw either one of his sons in the ring. He died on the night that Tommy fought Billy Miske in New York last October; a fight Tommy entered with knowledge of his father's serious illness. The bout terminated when Gibbons fouled Miske.

Tommy was the youngest member of the family and he declares, "naturally."

ally somewhat of a favorite." He tells with a smile of the day he and Mike "framed" a bout with their father as the only spectator. This mixup ended when Tommy "knocked out" Mike. He was glad to see the younger one get the best of it, the senior Gibbons said, after he saw Mike was not seriously hurt.

TWENTY-SIX EXPEDITIONS PLANNED FOR SCIENTISTS

Chicago, June 8.—Twenty-six scientific expeditions from nine colleges and universities of the Middle West will be working in various parts of the world during this summer, according to reports received from these institutions made public here.

In addition to the nine expeditions being sent from the University of Chicago and seven from the University of Iowa, as announced some time ago, Ohio State University, The University of Oklahoma and Purdue University each will have two expeditions working for them, while single expeditions will go out from Indiana University, Earlham College, Notre Dame and the Indiana State Normal School.

Ohio State University will send Dr. W. C. Mills to investigate the mode of living of prehistoric men in Ohio a thousand years ago and Prof. Robert F. Webb will head a party of students who will study rock construction, stratigraphy and plateau construction in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.

The University of Oklahoma will send one expedition under the leadership of Dr. Samuel Weidman, to study ore deposits in the Miami region and another, under Dr. V. E. Monnett, to investigate and study structural geology in the Arbuckle mountains.

Indiana University students, under Professor W. A. Cogshall will go to lower California to obtain photographic records of the solar corona during the total eclipse of the sun September 10. Earlham college students will make the trip to Yellowstone Park for a summer field course.

Purdue University plans two expeditions within the boundaries of the state. One will be to the sand dunes in northern Indiana, while the other will be made to southeastern Indiana.

Dr. James Burns, of the University of Notre Dame, assisted by Rev. M. McGarry, plans some excavations throughout the state of Michigan. Dr. Burns also contemplates making a special study of the sand dunes in the vicinity of Michigan City, Ind.

Indiana State Normal School students will make an extended journey for the purpose of studying geography. Professor F. J. Breeze will be in charge but the territory to be explored has not been announced.

YOUNG KITCHIN MAY SUCCEED HIS FATHER

Raleigh, N. C.—There is a movement under way in the second congressional district of North Carolina, according to the Raleigh Times for the place left vacant by the death of Claude Kitchen to stand aside in order that his son Mills Kitchen, may be elected to the unexpired term. The next general election will be held in 1924.

The Times made the statement today in connection with the publication of an announcement from State Senator W. L. Long, saying he would not be a candidate. His announcement followed a similar one by John G. Dawson, who also had been mentioned as a possible candidate.

Mills Kitchen, son of the late Representative Kitchen maintains law offices in Washington.

KEPT HIS MONEY IN AN OLD BARN

Leads Police to Trunk Containing Nearly $10,000

An old trunk with $10,000 stored in a barn is a queer place to keep money but that is the way that William Moore of York has been doing his banking. The financial standing of Moore came to light following a hearing in police court in York on the charge of assault with intent to kill Miss Sallie Moore, matron of the York hospital. He was held in the sum of $1000 for further hearing tonight and the authorities believed he would be unable to secure the necessary bail money for his release or find a bondsman. Moore asked to be allowed to go and get the bail money and the court granted his request, sending a police officer with him. He led the officer to the barn of Elmer Martin and there uncovered an old trunk and from within took between $9000 and $10,000 in cash. For more than five years residents have been much mystified, regarding Moore's money and it is a well known fact that he has been followed in the hope that he would reveal his hiding place. He once lived in the old barn before he was given a home in the hospital.

FIGHTERS BREAK BANK WINDOW ON CONGRESS ST.

Police Later Arrest Them Near Dye Plant at Newington

Frederick and Edward McMahan of New York, who make up part of the working crew at the dye plant, are brothers, but something besides brotherly love existed between them on Thursday night after attending a hooch fest in the North End district. They were promenading Congress street about 8.30 and the conversation between them indicated that there was trouble brewing and the climax was reached when they arrived at the corner of High and Congress street. Ed took quick action. He lambasted Fred. Just two blows were struck. Ed struck Fred and Fred struck the big plate glass window of the National Mechanicals and Traders Bank. The glass fell in a thousand pieces on the sidewalk and away went the fighters, one leaving his cap on the sidewalk. They succeeded in keeping away from the police until after 4 o'clock this morning when they shanghaied out of their cots in a lodging house near the dye plant and whizzed away in the happy wagon to the municipal bastille on Chapel street and booked for a hearing this afternoon.

The glass was valued at about $150, and the lettering on the same at $25. The offenders appeared to be very sorry for creating the disturbance and damage and said they would do most anything to make good.

MAYOR LADD AND POLICE BOARD ARE IN CONCORD

Hearing Today on Petition of Patrolman Bierce Before Judge Kivel

Mayor Ladd, City Clerk Weeks, City Treasurer Kimball, Police Commissioners Pickering, Nelson and Griffin are in Concord today appearing before Judge Kivel of the superior court in the hearing on the petition of Police Officer Bierce in which he seeks to compel the city of Portsmouth to remit the wages due him since he was appointed in the department. None of the city council members were obliged to attend the hearing. Judge E. L. Cuptill is appearing for the commissioners and Samuel W. Emery for the city officials.

FINE CONCERT AT PEOPLE'S CHURCH

The concert of "Negro Melodies" rendered at the People's church last evening resulted in a splendid success nearly a hundred of Portsmouth's well known citizens ignored the bad weather and attended. Many of the pastors of the city aided in the success by urging cooperation and by assisting in the disposal of tickets. The tide of satisfaction ran high to the extent that Rev. John Graham of Kittery extended an invitation to the church to render a program in Kittery. A repetition was also requested for the city. The oration consisting of 1000 words rendered by Mrs. Lulu E. Riley was accepted as the best yet made in Portsmouth by a woman of color. Rev. William J. Denton of the Advent church urged more cooperation and pleaded for a more cosmopolitan America for all peoples regardless of color. The church through its pastor expresses much appreciation for the interest taken by our citizens in the affair.

The Rich Style of STEIN-BLOCH Clothes Remains With Them, Insured by Careful Hand-Tailoring.

IT IS NOT A SECRET

Because we do not always mention price in our advertisements doesn't mean that we are afraid to tell you what Stein-Bloch Clothes cost.

We know that value is something you get, not the sum you pay. The man who has once worn Stein-Bloch Clothes knows that he has obtained his money's worth—and more.

For the skeptic, however, we wish to state a Stein-Bloch suit costs as little as $40.00.
